The perfect answer to the needs of:

- Architects, Kitchen Studios, Designers and Contractors who are looking for high value solutions that are immediately available for the creation of kitchens and furniture for residential housing, high level buildings and villas
- Kitchen Manufacturers who want to widen their range of Kitchens without having to increase the level of inventories in stock
- Wholesalers and Retailers of kitchen components in Europe.

Selection 006

Is a flexible product line that offers wide opportunities in the composition of kitchens thanks to the possibility of alternating the central panel and inserting additional elements.

The choice of the finishing, with or without patina, characterizes the environment in a traditional or more contemporary way, thus responding to the diverse needs of today's customers and guests.

FEATURES OF THE MATERIAL

Wood is a natural material that remains alive in time.

The use of solid wood involves differences in grain or shade among some of the parts and this defines and enhances its particular beauty.

We know the essences that have been working for many years and we know how they react in the environment.

To always guarantee the very best satisfaction of our customers we constantly test and validate the production processes and techniques by our Quality Management System UNI EN ISO 9001 certified ICILA - IQNet.
